HONGHONG, SATURDAY, MAY 23, 1885.

A CERTAIN amount of astuteness must be conceded to His Excellency the Governor, for his discovery and anticipation of burning questions. It is clear Alexandria. that the vote of $3500 for the extension of Murray Pier has had the effect of the 24th inst., instead of as pre- ac elerating the consideration of what is to be done with Pedder's Wharf. This subject of the People's Wharf-how it A PRIVATE telegram received to-day from Per Marie, at 9 a.m., on Monday, the may be made to serve some of the re- Shanghai states that the Waverley has been quirements of a landing stage-has been captured by the French. It is, of course, an open question for many years. It Per Galley of Lorne, at 9 a.m., on Mon- was closed some two or three years since by a vote being placed on the has been transporting troops, contrary to Estimates to build a fine iron structure; the understanding entered into. Per Ningpo, at 9 a.m., on Monday, the lapsed into the Treasury, the question once more became as if it had never been discussed. It has now the advant-Per Quarta, at 9 s.m., on Monday, the age of having been resurrected as quite a new and bappy thought. There can For SWATOW, SINGAPORE & BANG. be little objection to Pedder's Wharf being swept off the Estimates along with numberless other useful public works, save and except that it is continually in use as almost the only public landing Cathedral, place on the Prays, and that its inadequateness for the traffic it bears has been the most prominent feature in its existence for years past. These considerations have doubtless led the Governor to direct that a sum be placed on the Estimates for 1880 for the extension and renewal of this public VILLE, BRISBANE, SYDNEY, wharf, although they were not apperently powerful enough to suggest any Per Catterthun, at 2.30 p.m., on Tuesday, immediate improvement. A considerable amount of popular feeling has been aroused, and some of it has found ex-

MEMOS. FOR TO MORROW decided upon to the People's Pier. The sacred rights of the people have been Shipping. for the moment in danger, and it had been our solemn purpose to condemn all such panderings to Wealth and that the only reason why the wherf of the High Dignitaries is being repaired is that it is actually on the point of tumbling into the water; and we therefore restrain our Radical wrath until it can be set free with more safety. There is one other point, however, which ought to be considered. Granted that the Murray Pier is on its last legs, is it advisable to extend it, when it may the German language, by Rev. F. Hartmann, be swept away within the next year or Chapel of the Berlin Foundling House, frontage eastwards, past the Naval two by the extension of the Praya Yard? The lively hopes entertained by Governor Bowen, that this improvement would soon be carried out, have certainly dwindled away, without leaving much certainty behind. But if the continuation of the Prays is to be decided upon within the next two or three years, it will be useless to ex-Noon .- Phra Chom Klao leaves for lend a wharf which will have to be taken away to make room for the fine sweep of the continuous bund. This will probably be the only point to consider in lengthening Murray Pier. Several points will have to be considered ere a satisfactory decision can be come to, at this the first meeting of 2 p.m.-Auction of Japanese Ware, &c., Public Works Committee, concerning Pedder's Wharf. Mr Ryrie and Mr Jackson concur in this, that the wharf is a very miserable sort of affair! There need be no discussion as to that. But something might possibly be done to make it a little less rickety and inconvenient than it is at present. must be borne in mind that the fine wharf which the Surveyor General will hand over to the public-a credit doubtless, to his architectural skill and to the Colony, as well as a heavy debit to the Treasury-will not be ready for a couple of years. Something must be done in the meantime. Again, a woodenpier decays rapidly, while an iron pier is very expensive and may prove disastrously so if smashed up in a typhoon. It seems that a stone pier, though costly, is less liable than an iron structure to incur very heavy loss by typhoon damage. So that stone apappears to be the most feasible material for the construction of a permanent wharf. The arguments for and against each material will have to be discussed by the Committee; and the wharf most suitable for the public use ought to be satisfactorily decided upon with the aid of the members of that Committee. I there be any possibility that, after the permanent form of the wharf is decided upon and the money is voted, the vote may again lapse into the Treasury, it will be well for the Committee of Public Works to suggest that their labours be not altogether wasted. They might, for instance, insist that their views be embodied in a report and printed, so that, say four or five years hence, when the next generation of Governors and Committees find the wharf again rising up for consideration, the views of a previous Committee may at least be forthcoming to help on the good work. This at least is due to future generations: otherwise the progress of the world and Hongkong may be seriously retarded. The Colonial Secretary, it may be noted, said that it was quite impossible at the present moment to do anything to Pedder's Wharf, because a great deal of consideration had to be given to the question of its reconstruction with wood, iron, or stone. It will be seen that the 'great deal of consideration' may lead to another lapse of the vote; when the 'great deal of consideration' may have to be done over again, four or five years should be done to the wharf at the present moment. TELEGRAM.

> A CORRESPONDENT from Tientsin points out to us that the 64-pounder guns with which the Glenogle, Pembroke Castle, Rosetta, and other vessels are to be armed, being the weakest and most inferior rifled guns in the world, will be a bad match for the Russian rifled guns with which the Russian corvettes and privateers are fitted. The English 64pounder guns have a low speed, say 1320 feet initial velocity. At 10 degrees elevation the range is under 4000 yards. The Russian guns have over 1600 feet initial velocity, and at 10 degrees elevation the range is 6500 yards. THE INSPECTOR OF SCHOOLS' REPORT.

The following is the report by Dr Eite laid before the Legislative Council yesterday afternoon : -

Education Department. Hongkong, 25th February, 1885. Sir.-I have the honour to forward herewith the Annual Report on Education, and the Blue Book Returns for the year 1884.

2.—The total number of Schools subject to supervision by the Government amounted in the year 1884 to 90, as compared with 50 in 1879, and 39 in the year 1874. The the year 1884, in Schools subject to supervision and annual examination by the Government, amounted to 5,885, as compared with 3,460 enrolled in 1879, and 2,563 enrolled in the year 1874. There are now 51 more Schools and 3,322 more scholars under Government-supervision than there were ten years ago. It appears therefore that both the number of Schools under Government supervision in the Colony and the number of scholars attending such Schools have been doubled within the last ten years.

3.--The number of children attending Schools in the Colony is steadily increasing from year to year in the Grant-in-Aid Schools. There is at present no increase of attendance observable in the Government Schools, but an annual decrease, because in the case of the Ahglo-Chinese School kept by the Government, all available space is already overcrowded, and, in the ease of those Government Schools which give purely Chinese teaching, the teaching given in the Government Schools is less appreciated by the people than that given in the Grant-in-Aid Schools, where the bonus allowed to the teacher acts as a powerful stimulant upon the efficiency of the teaching. But when once the long-expected new Victoria College buildings are completed, and the Government Central School moved into them, the matter of attendance will resume its normal development so far as Anglo-Chinese Schools are concerned.

4.—Of the above mentioned 5,885 children in Schools under Government supervision, as many as 3,907 children were placed by their parents in denominational Grant-in-Aid Schools where they receive a Christian education, whilst 1.978 attended the scoular Government Schools. Of the latter, 558 attended the Government Central School, 975 attended other Government Schools in town and in the villages, and

6.—As regards the expenses incurred by languages, and by the want of interest in the Government in 1884 in supporting Government Schools and Grant-in-Aid Schools, the following details may suffice. The Government Central School, which attended last year by 558 boys (mostly School, both in English and Chinese sub-Chinese), cost the Government last year jects. $13,378.62 or $23.97 per head. Five other Government Schools, also giving an Angle-Chinese education, and numbering Schools, outside the Central School, which adopted by them without regard to the 331 boys, cost the Government, in 1884, give the same kind of education as that reyear 1884, in direct payments for the education of 5.882 children the sum 833,650.14 or $5.71 per head. The original cost of school-buildings, the cost of repairs, and the expenses of the Inspectorate of Schools, are not included in the figures here given.

Of 379 boys of the Central School examined in 1884, as many as 362 passed, which gives 95.58 per cent. of 445 attended the Aided Schools in the School, shewed, on the whole, satisfactory dards in 1884.
